

Elocution competition on Khadi for Nation-Khadi for Fashion

An elocution competition was organized on March 1, 2017 at 3.00 pm in Seminar hall first floor of IITRAM main building. Total 9 participants registered for the competition and all were present. The subject was Khadi for Nation – Khadi for Fashion. The participants were free to choose any language among Hindi, Gujarati and English. There were participants from all three languages. The judges were Dr. B. V. Kamath, Dr. Meera Vasani and Dr. Gautam Borisagar. In audience apart from some faculty members and students, Prof. Shanti Prasanna, The Dean and Prof. A. U. Digraskar, The Director, IITRAM were also present. All the participants worked very well in terms of content, time management and presentation. Though the competition was very tough among the participants, according to KCG guideline for evaluation, Kishan Patel got the third place, Tripathi Dharmagna was on second position and Saloni Singh got the First position in the competition. Dr. Meera Vasani pointed out some common mistakes in participants, encouraged them and announced the result. Students expressed their wish for organizing more such events.